

Expert Services

When your needs meet our knowledge.

Product League shares with their customers the knowledge of our highly qualified specialists, in Co-deliver, Architecture, Performance, User Experience and Design. Our Expert Services are designed to provide guidance and deliver tailor-made solutions, according to our customer's needs, ensuring a fast and successful business outcome.

Our three distinct approaches

We provide customer outcomes through:

Mentor

Teach you how to do it

We share our expertise and ramp-up your teams to get the best of the platform from day 1.

Audit

Validate how it is done

We validate the quality of your applications and provide recommendations based on the industry's best practices.

Build

Do it for you

We deliver valuable outputs that match your use case in record time.

Our most used Expert Services

Our niche expertise goes so far we can't possibly describe all use cases, but here are the most requested services.

What is it

How we go about it

ODC Workshop

Do you want to understand how you can benefit from the ODC platform and learn what changed and why?

We share all insights into ODC architecture, and the impact on how your developers will work. Your team will learn how to design scalable ODC applications.

Co-Delivery

Do you want to convert developers from other technologies into OutSystems Developers or improve your Delivery Team's skill sets?

We Co-Deliver an application, focussing on the MVP, while coaching your team on our delivery method and leading them to autonomy for the next sprints releases.

Architecture Health-check

Do you struggle to maintain and evolve your applications due to dependencies delaying new features releases?

We assess the architecture and code quality of your applications, according to development best practices. The report identifies the top critical areas and delivers actionable recommendations.

Performance Health-check

Are you facing complains from users about applications performance in production?

We find the root causes of the performance issues. We give you hands-on support to solving the most critical situations.

Styleguide

Do you lack UI consistency or the ability to create new visual patterns?

Creating a style guide for your project will improve consistency and a clearer design aesthetic to your team, easy to maintain and evolve.

Application Facelift

Does your application have an acceptable look & feel... but not amazing? Are you struggling to make it slicker and pixel perfect?

In close collaboration with your team, we identify and provide hands-on solutions for your critical screens with our UI Designers and Front-end experts.

Curious about all our Expert Services?

Reach out to sales@product-league.com or visit us at www.product-league.com